DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Martin et al. (5,692,302)

Martin et al. discloses the same invention including a shaving head (10) including a cap portion (22), at least one blade coupled to the shaving head (18) and defining a cutting edge extending longitudinally of and approximately parallel to the cap portion (16), a shaving composite coupled to the cap portion and defining a skin engaging surface (24), that the shaving composite includes a preventive (Abstract), that a portion of the preventive is capable of being transferable to a user's skin upon contact (24), that the cutting edge and surface are aligned (Fig. 11), that the preventive is contained in a water-soluble phase (24), that the preventive is a photoprotective agent (Column 4, lines 36-50).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 14 April 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The abstract of Martin et al. clearly discloses "This invention pertains to therapeutic wound healing compositions useful for preventing and reducing injury to mammalian cells affixed to razor cartridges to form therapeutic razor cartridges with wound healing compositions". The independent claims of the instant application disclose a preventive and as shown above Martin et al. clearly discloses compositions useful for preventing affixed to razor cartridges. Regardless of its intended use, the structure from Martin et al. performs a preventing function, rendering the structure a preventive, and, therefore, anticipates the structure of the instant application. Using Figure 11, if blade (18) were to injure the user the preventive would transfer to the skin to assist in healing and preventing any further injury. Also, razor is capable of being a wet shave razor and the preventive (24) is water-soluble and, therefore, would clearly transfer to the user's skin during a shaving function.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
